Dear Tony,

Following the successful sale of my charter fishing boat business I am writing to thank you for all your help in finding a buyer. I am not aware of many sales of this nature as normally only the boats are bought and sold, so I approached this sale with some doubts over how we would get on. Although you only introduced two likely purchasers, one was ideally suited and, as they say, one is enough if it is the right one! Without your introduction I have no doubt I would still be looking for the right person.

I will have no reservations when recommending your services to other charter skippers who are anticipating retirement.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Light
