Dear Shaun,

I felt I should write and express my appreciation to you for your efforts in introducing the ultimate buyer for the business of C.J.Dams.

I was particularly impressed with the number of introductions you made to us, especially bearing in mind that this was a small deal by your standards. There was seldom a period of time when we were not in negotiations with someone and with some other interested parties waiting in the wings.

It is always difficult to sell a business that for a number of reasons was in decline and I am more than satisfied with the outcome.

Thank you for your offer of Lunch – I may well take you up on that at some juncture.

With best wishes and thanks again

Yours sincerely

Martin Singleton.
